Q1)Explain the output of this C program. Why the wrong value is being displayed in the output?

Ans: The value being showed in the picture is a garbage value. This happens when the value of a variable is printed without initializing it. The compiler Print a random value since it does not know the original value of the variable.